Teachers Will to the Students

- I, Mrs. Browne, leave a song in your heart and harmony in your lives.
- I, Mr. Caulfield, leave my portable desk on wheels with all its contents.
- I, Mr. Clark, leave best wishes for a most successful high school career in scholarship, sports, and all other activities.
- I, Mr. Connell, leave a year's supply of Periods 8. ONLY 7 PERIODS in A DAY! FLAKEY PUFF "Detersion"
- I, Mrs. Duffy, leave a super economy size notebook for their Social Studies Notes. I leave Dan Albert a moustache comb.
- I, Madame Foley, Leave Bonne Chance toujours.
- I, Mr. Good, leave a box of Happy Atoms and to my 6th period class, a permanent bathroom pass.
- I, Mrs. Kelly, leave each student his very own box of bandaids and an ice pack.
- I, Mrs. Kutasz, leave a large assortment of colored paper and markers for their reports.
- I, Mr. Lawlor, leave Best Wishes for a successful high school experience.
- I, Mrs. Mulcahy, leave my 3rd period class a record of O Bunuelo and to my 6th period class I leave Grisselments.
- I, Miss O'Brien, leave an interest in seeing good movies, then reading the books about which the movies were made.
- I, Mr. O'neil, leave my best wishes for success and happiness.
- I, Mr. Rosa, leave a guide to libraries, museums, and churches, a vocabulary list containing the word hyperactive, and a good set of ear muffs.
- I, Mr. Tatro, leave a copy of Flying Free to Chris Lennon, my folder for Sharon Togut to write on, a year for Ronnie Sandler to figure out a fill, a messy room for Marie Leblanc to straighten out, and all the sour notes from the band this year.
- I, Mrs. Wachsman, leave strength, spirit, and a smile. If you use them well, they will carry you far.

Remember When .....

→ Keith Hershenson threw a book at a hornet? He missed the hornet but hit the window!

Someone put a padlock on Mark Sullivan's locker.

Everyone got suspended for going to the path.

Mr. Rosa wore his sailor pants?

We rang the bell twenty minutes after the hostages were released.

President Reagan was shot?

Mr. Tatro grew a beard?

We had no heat.

We did have termites

We turned everything upside down in Mr. Hayes Room;

We put a padlock on Mrs. Mulcahy's briefcase?

OUR SPECIAL THANKS TO.....

Our Phantom Photographer

MR. Goldblatt

Mr. Nolan and Mrs. Mulcahy, our Student Council Advisors for all their time and dedication.

Our Typist, Mrs. Mulcahy.

The Printers who made this book possible.

And also these Student Council Members. . . . .

Lori Bartlett, Shelley Mumler, Marybeth Lydon, Dawn Easter, Lynda O'Brien,

Samara Kopelman, Kathy Hines, Peter Duato,
